

Hot new exhibition

Give your eyes a treat this week at Masterpieces, the brand new exhibition of iconic fashion photography at The Little Black Gallery in London.

The chic gallery is showcasing beautiful and classic pictures from legendary British photographers, Terence Donovan, Lord Lichfield and Norman Parkinson. From Donovan's informal shots of Cindy Crawford to Norman Parkinson's famous pictures of Jerry Hall (right), they'll remind you why their careers spanned generations and made the world think differently about fashion photography. The exhibition opens today and runs until 10 April.
