

JUNE BRIEFING

DAVID MELLOR has launched its first collection of fine bone china tableware.

The simple, modern collection is the first range of fine ceramics to be designed by Corin Mellor and has been developed to complement the famous David Mellor cutlery.

Available exclusively from David Mellor, 4 Sloane Square. T: 020 7730 4259.

THE GALLERIES on Park Walk are joining together for an open evening on June 8.

Jonathan Cooper, Jonathan Clarke, Fairfax Gallery, The Little Black Gallery, James McWhirter and Cricket Fine Art are all opening their doors until 8pm. Exhibitions on show range from antiques and fine art to contemporary photography, including Alistair Taylor-Young's refreshingly summery Swimmer (pictured).

TATEOSSIAN is celebrating its 20th anniversary by reinventing some of its earliest designs. The limited-edition cufflink collection includes new versions of Tateossian's iconic watch cufflinks, the Globe and the classic D Shape Checker (pictured).

The King's Road designer has also introduced a new collection of cufflinks, which includes the Real Dice cufflinks, complete with removable dice.

Tateossian, 15 Duke of York Square. T: 020 7259 0777.
