

RING THE CHANGES

We love these pop-art-style, hand-painted rings from the new website shopcurious.com. It's the place to go for quirky, hand-crafted and often one-off jewellery, clothing and homewares.

Rings, £80 each; 020 8870 9930

Knickers and old lace

Giving your lady lingerie on Valentine's Day may be a cliché, but if it's by Ayten Gasson we'll forgive the lack of originality. The London-based designer has used trims sourced from the old lace mills of Nottingham in her latest collection. Emily top, £74, and bottoms, £76; aytengasson.com

CHEAP TRICK

This pretty necklace by EB by Erickson Beamon for Debenhams brings to mind the innocent floral detailing in the current Moschino collection. £20; 0844 561 6161

STELLA LOVES...

Compiled by Nisha Lilla Diu

THIS WEEK'S MUST DO, SEE, BUY 8 February 2009

THE LITTLE BLACK GALLERY,

one of London's newest photography galleries, is hosting a charming exhibition called 'Kiss', until 28 March. It includes pictures from Kate Moss's first professional shoot, as well as classic images by Bob Carlos Clarke. London SW10; 020 7349 9332

8 stella

THE GLUTTONOUS GARDENER

has some of the greatest gifts you could give a gardening enthusiast. These are no mere potted plants, but rather crates full of vines in which bottles of wine nestle, or mulberry trees accompanied by mulberry jam and syrup. The Orangery set, £75; glut.co.uk

Emilio de la Morena's new collection couldn't be more different from the embroidered pieces in his debut last year. The fluid silken designs show off his eye for contour in an entirely new way. Dress, £850, from Browns Focus (020 7514 0000)

